CIRCUS PLANS TWO-DAY STAND HERE NEXT WEEK

101 Ranch Will Make Experiment and Managers Believe It Will Be Successful

Those who have watched the growth of Atlanta as an amusement center have long been of the opinion that this city would be a profitable two-day stand for a circus. Hitherto the managers of the more important tent shows have been strictly a one-day stand. For this reason the announcement that the 101 Ranch will continue to regard Atlanta as the largest exhibition of its kind in the United States, would try the experiment of making Atlanta a two-day stand, has caused a great deal of curiosity, and the result will be watched with interest when it exhibits here next Monday and Tuesday.

It is noted, though not generally realized, that outside of New York, where a few weeks ago a circus was in operation, there are only five cities in the United States where a big tent show can exhibit for a week. These are Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans, St. Louis and San Francisco. New Orleans is the only city in the United States where it is possible to play to good business for two days. The only two-day stands in the entire country are Baltimore, Kansas City, Seattle and Los Angeles and even in these cities the business of tent shows usually falls off on the second day. In Canada, Montreal is, undoubtedly, the only city where a two-day stand and the experiment of playing in Atlanta for two days has been tried with success. All the rest of the cities on both sides of the international line, and small are closed by the circus managers as one-day stands.

SAVES CHILD FROM FIRE AS BLAZING ROOF FALLS

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Dean Awakened Just in Time by Baby's Screams

Awakened at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning by the sound of their three-year-old daughter crying and screaming, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Dean, 475 Hill street, discovered their home in flames. Smoke was very thick in the child's bedroom adjoining that of its parents. Mr. Dean rushed into the room, seized the child, and ran out just as the ceiling fell in flames to the floor. Mr. and Mrs. Dean saved little of their household goods, but the roof of the house was destroyed.

The fire, which burned from the attic downward, is thought to have been caused by a defective fuse, overrated by the cold Monday night.

The house at 475 Hill street was owned by C. F. Bridges, who has been in Florida for some time. Mr. Bridges' furniture, stored in the attic, was destroyed.

He was burned slightly about the head and shoulders. The explosion and the crash of John attracted a large crowd.

HARDWICK IS CONFIDENT OF BETTER CONDITIONS

Says Reserve Banks and Cotton Pool Will Relieve Situation in South

Disappointed that congress had failed to enact the emergency legislation introduced by southern members with a view to remedying conditions in the cotton growing section, but optimistic and confident that the situation will gradually improve from now on Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick, Georgia's junior senator-elect, talked interestingly Monday evening of the vigorous and earnest efforts put forth by the southern senators and congressmen to obtain the desired legislation.

Congressman Hardwick was in Atlanta for a few hours, stopping over on his way from Washington to Barnevill, where Tuesday he delivered an address at the opening exercises of the Sixth District Agricultural school.

"Senator Hoke Smith and every Georgia congressman did their very best to force remedial cotton legislation," said Congressman Hardwick, "and we were backed by all but a few of the southern members of the house and senate. However, about the four-fifths of congress was in sympathy with us and we were beaten."

"Nevertheless we failed of success so far as getting through our relief measure, our fight centered the attention of the country on the south and its cotton problem and the result will without doubt be beneficial."

"There are four things which I feel sure will contribute to improved conditions."

CONDITIONS WILL IMPROVE.
"First, The opening of the federal reserve bank on November 15, with its wonderful facilities for redeeming."

"Second, The $100,000,000 cotton fund, suggested by Foster J. Wade, of St. Louis, and approved by the federal reserve board."

"The negotiations now in progress between the treasurer of the United States and the British exchequer."

"Fourth, The demonstration early in 1915 that the cotton crop has been very largely curtailed."

Mr. Hardwick said that prior to leaving Washington he took up with the secretary of agriculture the matter of using weekly reports as to the cotton crop. "The world will be kept informed of the amount of cotton acreage and will early in the spring know to just what extent acreage has been reduced. Such a knowledge will, I am sure, result in better prices for the surplus cotton carried over from last year's crop, for the planters will cut their acreage."

If Great Britain continues to control "minerals on the seas and in the air," he said, to get cotton to Europe, France there should very shortly be an increased demand for staple.

MILLS HOLD OP.
"These foreign mills which have been in position to get cotton from Europe in this country, have held off their purchases because they feared the mills might decline. I think the bottom has about been reached and that both foreign and domestic mills will soon be heavy buyers. Last year all the cotton foreign and domestic consumed 2,280,000 bales. In Ireland, consumed 500,000 bales of cotton. England alone consumed 1,280,000 bales. There is no reason now why England and France should not get all the cotton they want right now and at the price that this government will be able to afford. The cotton will be sold to permit shipments of cotton to Germany and Austria."

SUFFERING BELGIANS NEED OLD CLOTHING

Mr. F. E. May, local secretary of the Belgian relief committee, has issued a call to Atlantians to send to Belgium in a new way—with their discarded clothes and linen.

Any gift in the form of clothing or even lint cotton which has been sterilized and used for bandages, will be received at 162 Peachtree street or will be called for if the donor phones 741-8011.

BILL AT THE FORSYTH AS SEEN BY JOURNAL CARTOONIST

NUT GROWERS MEET AT THOMASVILLE WEDNESDAY

Number of Delegates From California Are Expected to Attend

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Oct. 27.—The convention of the National Nut Growers' association will convene here tomorrow for its thirteenth annual session and a large delegation of the members is expected. This is a convention of much importance and it will bring together men interested in the nut growing business from California to Georgia and it will show the progress made in the nut industry since its inception, or since the improved methods and varieties have made the nut what it is today.

It was formerly thought that the peach could only be cultivated in the cotton belt but with the territory extending to Maryland and even higher there will be representatives present to tell of the progress made in growing the peach for trade.

Other nuts such as the Persian hickory, almonds, etc., will also be taken up for consideration but it is safe to say that the peach will be the chief subject for discussion.

ROME TO TALK OVER COMMISSION SYSTEM

ROME, Ga., Oct. 27.—A mass meeting of citizens of Rome for the discussion of commission government here, which will be held on Tuesday night at the court house. CASE COMPANY JOINS BUY-A-BALE CAMPAIGN

Big Wisconsin Firm Begins to Buy $5,000 Worth of Cotton in This Section

The J. I. Case T. M. company, of Racine, Wis., enrolled in the buy-a-bale movement Tuesday with the announcement that it had begun to purchase $5,000 worth of cotton in Atlanta and vicinity at 10 cents a pound and will increase this purchase in the near future should conditions justify it.

This company is one of the largest manufacturers in the world of automobiles, threshing machines, and steam engines, and other farm vehicles and implements. It has over eighty branches in the United States and Canada.

Mr. E. Thomas, of Racine, division manager, visited Atlanta recently to examine conditions in the south resulting from the war. He was so impressed by the buy-a-bale movement that on his return he purchased 100 bales of cotton to do all in their power to aid it.

Mr. Burk, manager of the local branch at 567 Whitehall street, was ordered to purchase 100 bales from Atlanta and vicinity, and he has already sold 100 bales of cotton to the company. Mr. Burk declares the officials of the Case company will probably instruct other branches to buy 100 bales of cotton if they feel so warranted after the purchase here.

MEETING FOR WOMEN AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Evangelist Klein Will Hold Special Service Wednesday Afternoon at 3 o'clock

A meeting for "women only" will be held in the First Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Evangelist Klein, who with the pastor, Dr. Dulose, is conducting a two weeks' revival.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be a special service for the women of the city and a cordial invitation is extended to all the young men in Atlanta to attend. The evangelist will talk on "Moral Reform."

"Negro's Daughter" will be at the Grand all this week.

One of the most successful offerings of the Jewel Kelly company proved to be the laughable comedy, "The Whole Dam Family," which pleased two large audiences at the matinee and night performances at the Bijou yesterday. The action of the comedy is brisk, the dialogue is bright, and the situations immensely funny. Judging from the applause and laughter at both the matinee and night performances, Bijou audiences are keen for comedies. During the action of the play many clever specialists are introduced by members of the company. This comedy bill will be seen all week, with daily matinee and night performances.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 27.—Three illicit whisky plants have been destroyed by a scouting trip through Elmore county. The plants, which have been bound over to the federal grand jury on a charge of making whisky as a result of a scouting trip through Elmore county, have been destroyed by deputy marshals. Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

When you darken your hair with Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is money and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

MISS LAWSON HINES GIVES BEAUTIFUL PARTY

The large tea dance at which Miss Lawson Hines, the lovely young daughter of Judge and Mrs. L. Hines, entertained Tuesday afternoon a host of Miss Hattie Morton, of Tennessee, was one of the most beautiful parties making the present gay social season.

The handsome home of Judge and Mrs. Hines on Twentieth street was elaborately decorated throughout, and in all corners except the rose-tinted parlor, which the young hostess received, the decorations of the Halloween season prevailed.

Miss Hines and Miss Morton, assisted by Miss Hines and Miss Mary Hines, to receive before a mantle banked with glowing pink roses. Wide petals the candles caught with pink light, and the electric bulbs, were covered with pink silk shades. The hostess made a charming appearance wearing a gown of pale pink charmeuse, with a graceful train of net bordered in silver. The drop and net lace adorned the collar and cuffs. The flowers were long-stemmed and in vases.

Miss Morton wore a striking model of a new dress, cloth made straight tunic, and bordered with monkey fur. The wide waist line was softened with a cascade of chiffon and caught with silver lace. The long sleeves were pink charmeuse, and the hands were a handsome affair of light charmeuse, with a graceful train of net bordered in silver. The drop and net lace adorned the collar and cuffs. The flowers were long-stemmed and in vases.

Miss Hines looked very attractive in a gown of white satin, fashioned in a new style.

with a broad girde of silver brocade. A rich color note to the pretty costumes, and dining room, the lights were covered with yellow lanterns, reflecting weird figures of witches and hobgoblins. Gilded festooned over the windows and connecting arches, and masses of black cat, swish, and other devices of Halloween combined to make the scene gay and festive. Great yellow pumpkins with solemn blinking eyes rested at intervals around the plate rack in the dining room and the centerpiece of the table was a large pumpkin filled with richly colored fruits. Branches of autumn tints—leaves interspersed with green foliage—were bunched in profusion against the walls and great feathery yellow chrysanthemums filled bowls and vases. An alcove at the end of the long entrance hall was screened with brightly tinted leaves and palms and here a stringed orchestra furnished a bright program of dance music. An interesting feature and favorite place of retreat was the witches' camp adjoining the sun parlor in which the guests' fortunes were told.

Mrs. Luther Ross, Jr., and Mrs. James Wells served punch from a beautifully decorated bowl in the sun parlor, and seating in an adjoining room, Miss Isabel Robinson, Miss Elizabeth Blane, Miss Mary King, Miss Margaret Taylor, Miss Louise Parker, Miss Louise Taylor, Miss Aurelia Smith and Miss Lucile Kuhl.

A hundred and fifty guests were entertained.

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE. The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant, lasting, home-made cough syrup has caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It gives almost instant relief and will usually overcome the average cough in 24 hours.

Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drug store, pour it into a half bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough remedy at a cost of only 54 cents or less. You can't buy as much ready-made cough medicine for $2.50. Easily prepared and never spoils. Full directions with Pinex.

The promptness, certainty and ease with which this Pinex Syrup overcomes a bad cough, chest or throat cold is truly remarkable. It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes a painful cough in a hurry. With a persistent loose cough it stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the annoying hacking.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, thick in guaiacum, the world over for its splendid effect in bronchitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

To avoid disappointment in making this ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Miss Helen Brown and Miss Margaret Taylor served punch. Mrs. Fred Lewis and Mrs. Bates also presided at the favor table and presented the various souvenirs, bright about, whistles, whistles, whistles and other appropriate gifts.

Among the little hostesses were Miss Louise Lewis, Miss Mary Cohen, Miss Kate Stanley, Miss Valerie Manley, of Robert Lewis Block.

Pretty Afternoon Tea
Miss Eugenia Richardson, who has been delightfully entertained prior to her approaching marriage to Mr. Coleman Brown, was the honor guest at the large tea given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. J. A. Howell, at her pretty home in College Park.

The guests were received in the drawing room which was effectively decorated in snowy white chrysanthemums artistically arranged against a background of palms and ferns. The vases and baskets in which the flowers were arranged were caught with fluffy white tulle bows. The stairway was garlanded with smilax caught with clusters of white blossoms, and the effective white and blue color scheme was continued in the library and dining room.

The round table had a large crystal vase filled with white chrysanthemums and at the base was a circle of fever few and maidenhair ferns. A basket with overhanging blossoms was suspended from the chandelier which was wreathed in smilax and white tulle. Many lighted tapers cast a soft glow over the pretty decorations.

Miss Marian Bradley and Miss Margaret Martin presided at the coffee urn, and Miss Frances Gresham and Miss Dorothy Harrison poured punch.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. T. Gresham, Miss Ellen Renner and Miss Helen Smith. Little Miss Virginia Proctor received the cards at the door and Miss Grace Renner and Miss Daisy Carlton served punch.

The pretty honor guest wore a lovely afternoon toilet of all white, and Miss Brown was gowned in black crepe de chine with touches of soft lace about the neck and sleeves.

One hundred and thirty guests called during the afternoon.

VIOLATION OF CHILD LABOR LAW CHARGED

Young Boy, Through Father, Sues for Three Thousand Dollars Damages

A $3,000 damage suit based on alleged violation of the state child labor law was filed in the city court Tuesday afternoon by T. J. Glimmer, for his eleven-year-old son, Charlie Glimmer, against the Pittsburgh Glass company, attorneys B. L. Chappell and Dillon, Parsons & Kobak representing the plaintiff.

Young Glimmer claims in his suit that without the consent or knowledge of his parents he was employed while under age of the child labor law at the company's factory, Madison avenue and West Alabama street, where his work was to feed cement into a grinding wheel at a salary of $4 a week.

Doing this work, it is alleged, Glimmer's right hand was caught in the pulley and dragged into the wheel, and his right arm so mutilated that he cannot use it again. Glimmer claims that the company did not warn him of the dangers of the machinery, and that he himself was too young to realize them.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

Old Granny Fox trotted back to the Green Forest, where Reddy Fox was waiting for her, and all the way there she chuckled to herself. She had recovered her round stomach to the house of Old Man Coyote in the last corner of the Green Meadows, and howler had called his master, Farmer Brown's boy, over there.

"Now I guess I'll know who has been stealing his chickens and will stop nutting Reddy and his," muttered granny. "In even with Old Man Coyote at last, and I guess he won't bother us again very long."

Perhaps granny wouldn't have had such a comfortable feeling if she could have heard Farmer Brown's boy exclaim as he came up to where howler the house was frantically trying to dig open the house of Old Man Coyote. "Hello! here's a fox den! It must be that those foxes have moved from up near the edge of the Green Forest, and I hadn't once suspected it. Pretty clever of them, I call it. No one would ever think of looking for a fox den there. Those bushes hide it so that you could almost walk up to them without seeing it. Has there are some chicken houses. We've got to put a stop to this, Mr. Fox or Mrs. Fox, whichever you are!"

But presently as he looked about more closely, Farmer Brown's boy began to be in doubt, and there was a puzzled look on his face. "If a fox made that it is the biggest fox I ever heard of, he muzzled as he started down at a footprint. He must be the king of all the foxes."

Now Farmer Brown's boy has learned one thing that a great many people never do learn, and which is most important. It is this: never make up your mind that a thing is or isn't so until you have thoroughly looked it over. It is so while at first he had taken that track for the footprint of a very large fox, he was not absolutely sure. The more he looked at it the less sure he was. "Looks almost like the front print of a small dog," said he, "and I don't exactly like that. I wonder." He paused and looked very hard at the footprint. Then he pointed until he found another and near it a brownish-gray hair. "My gracious!"

Eatonton Social News

EATONTON.—A pretty compliment for a popular Eatonton girl and a bride elect of the month was the Delta Psi reception for Miss Leila Coombs Turner, whose wedding to Dr. E. Frederick Griffith, of Columbia, S. C., on October 23, is a social event of state-wide interest. Every detail of the reception was beautifully planned by Miss Turner's classmates, who were untiring in working out every feature of the many surprises of the occasion. The score cards, suggestive of an approaching happy event, were filled of the valley, on which each guest wrote some poetic sentiment or timely suggestion for the bride elect.

Miss Gertrude Smith was home from Wesleyan for the week and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. A. Smith. Mrs. Clayton Lancaster has returned from Tennille.

RECIPE FOR BALD HEADS

Well Known Politician Nearly Bald Now Has New Growth of Hair.

Tells How He Did It.

A western politician, well known on account of his baldness and his ready wit, surprised his friends by appearing with a new growth of hair. Many of his friends did not know him, and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it, he made the following statement: "I attribute the growth of my hair to the following simple recipe which any lady or gentleman can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of Bay Rum, a small box of Harbo Compound and 1-4 oz. of Glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, scalp humors, and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes the hair soft and glossy. The ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."—(Advt.)
